MINNESOTA is tinkering at a prohibition measure which, if passed, would deserve letters patent. The bill provides that permits to drink in saloons and bar rooms may be granted for the moderate sum of five dollars to any citizen who can prove he is a moderate drinker and that his indulgence will not bring want and disgrace to his family and friends. Parties having such permits can have the run of the drinking places in the State, while indulgence without such personal license will occasion fines and penalties to both the indulger and the dealer.

This scheme is expected to be prohibitory in cases of habitual and impecunious drunkenness, while it will not restrain the personal liberty of the moderate drinker who is disposed and has the money to take out a license; besides, the neise of the permits and the amount the price of the permits and the amount of fines will add greatly to the public Reciprocity.

Reciprocity.

We see that it is proposed that under Cleveland's administration quite a number of Southern colored men shall be appointed to Federal offices in Republican communities in the Northern States. This proposition is based on the idea that Northern Republican journals truthfully represent Northern Republican sentiment, and as they have much complained that the poor Africans, couldn't have office in the South, they would be rejoiced to welcome them as office holders in the North. As Cleveland was elected on the idea of utterly breaking down sected office in the South, they would be rejuiced to welcome them as office holders in the North. As Cleveland was elected on the idea of utterly breaking down sectional feeling, would it not be both chartiable and just, and accomplish the wish of our Northern friends by sending them a liberal supply of Southern colored office holders, especially from South Cardina, Mississippi and Louisiana? We have seen that this suggestion has been resented as an insult by some Northern Republican journals. But surely they can not in this properly represent Northern Republican sentiment, which has so grieved and been so indignant over the exclusion of the Southern nerro from important offices over Southern white people. No, it must be that Northern Republicans are anxiously and carnestly houing for Southern colored men to have important offices such as postoffices, etc., among them, bringing them in hourly communication with their people. And, therefore, can it be that the "cra of good feeling," could be better brought about than by gratifying them in this landable distinct of the standard of the Southern colored of the Southern S cans —The Evils and How Restored.

In this age of bustle and hurry, an age devoted to great projects and enterprises, the American people are taking the lead in the furtherance of noble works, and in the advancement of the sciences and arts, in these they deserve to take a high rank, and through the united works of millions, the American continent is fast being transformed from its untamed state and being placed on an equality with the older continents beyond the ocean. The American people are fast, under these influences developing into a nervous, energetic race, remarkable for its vim and business qualifications; yet there is danger that in the course of years these very elements may combine to the ruination of the physical character of the people, and leave them feeble and altogether different from their forefathers. General debility is now much more common than formerly, and seems to be on the increase among the masses. Ovens & Barkley.

The Frankfort Yeoman says: The failure of Owens & Barkley, large wholesale hardware and boot and shoe dealers at Mayaville, was announced Thursday morning. The house was one of the oldest and considered one of the safest in eastern Kentucky. It had been in existence about twenty-five years, and its trade extended throughout the whole of eastern Kentucky. Part of southwestern Ohio and part of West Virginia. It carried and disposed of the entire product of one or two shoe manufactories in Massachusetts, and dealt largely in the importation of cultery and stee goods. It was the fair and strong rival of all Cincinnati houses in the same line, and stood as high in commercial reports as any of equal capital. The gentlemen composing, the firm are men of the strictest personal and commercial integrity, and the misfortune which has fallen upon them is in no manner due to speculation or any improper action. They have confined themselves to legitimate trade, and have been guilty of no imprudence. The gradual shrinkage of values, the unaccountable scarcity of money, and the inability of their correspondents to meet engagements, has forced them to an assignment, as it has and will force many others before the summer opens. The people of Maysville know them to be honest, careful and trustworthy, and it will not be long until they are re-established.
